I. Camp Operation

Our goal is to create a positive attitude among all campers to enhance the working of God's Word and the Holy Spirit in their hearts. The schedule is varied with times of choice, restful breaks, loud and quiet times, rugged and easy events. Our goal, however, is to make the highlight of camp the spiritual times.

Each leader will be supplied with a daily schedule/daily devotional at Check In and kept informed during the morning counselor meetings.

A. Procedures/Rules

Fort Bluff Camp is a Christian camp. The standards we maintain apply to every camper. Any camper who is not cooperative is subject to dismissal at his own expense. If a camper cannot control himself, then he cannot stay. Our guidelines will be enforced, in love, but enforced for all.

It is the youth leader's responsibility to communicate our rules, dress code, and standards of conduct clearly before coming to Fort Bluff Camp.

Dress Code – The guidelines stated in the following paragraphs are the acceptable dress code for Fort Bluff Camp. We have many churches whose dress codes differ from each other; however, youth leaders handle the situation very well by explaining to their young people that sometimes it is necessary to practice flexibility. Since our camps are only a week, the change should not be a difficult one.

Guys – Please be modest at all times. No cut-off t-shirts or tight clothing. Evening Chapel Services: church or school attire.

Gals – Please be modest at all times. No see-through, low-cut, or tight clothing. Evening Chapel Services: church or school attire.

No clothing advertising questionable products or people. No jeans with holes, tears, or patches.

B. Items to Bring

- Pillow and sleeping bag or bed sheets
- Towels and washcloths
- Soap and shampoo
- Alarm clock
- Bible, notebook & pen
- Several changes of clothing (no laundry services available)
- Shoes
- Swimming suits (guys – boxer style; gals – modest one-piece suits)
- Tennis shoes for playing on the gym floor
- Jacket, coat, or hoodie (temperatures can drop at the Bluff)
- Spending money for Canteen and the Nest; fishing gear; softball glove (all optional)
- Basic First Aid Kit (by Counselors)

C. Items to Leave at Home

No gaming devices, iPods, computers or other technology - if these items are brought by a camper the youth leader will be responsible to collect them and lock them in their vehicle. We do not want these distractions at camp. This is a great opportunity for God's Spirit to have the undivided attention of our young people.

No contraband (knives, firearms, fireworks, etc)

II. Competition

Some competitive events are planned each week for both teen and junior camps. Team and individual events are planned, including Bible, music, and athletics. Awards will be presented to the winners on Friday morning.

Competition is not required of either individuals or groups. The following events listed provide enough information to help your campers prepare. Awards (medals and plaques) will be presented to the individual winners, along with some team trophies for churches. Special times will be set aside each day for certain competitive events, entered by choice only.

III. Closing Notes

The group's unity, enthusiasm, participation, cooperation, and camp spirit will depend largely upon the leaders. In turn, we want to be an asset to your leadership.

Fort Bluff Camp prefers that as many leaders as possible come with your campers, roughly one leader for every ten campers. Men leaders will stay with the boys each night, and the ladies will stay with the girls. Throughout the day leaders should motivate campers to be on time. The services and meals should find you counting noses and occasionally checking dorms.

Our main emphasis is to turn the hearts of young people toward things of the Lord. We have both morning and evening services to heighten a spiritual emphasis. We ask that all leaders be ready to help during invitation times; remind your group to bring their Bible, Devotional Guide (we supply), and a pen to services.

We will have special sessions for just the youth leaders. These sessions will cover topics relevant to today's Christian young people how to develop youth ministry.

Also, please be sure to check the health status of your campers before coming. It times past, we've had campers arrive who should not have come (e.g. fevers, lice, etc), and it affected those in their room.

Thank you for coming! We believe this is going to be a great summer and we're excited to see how the Lord will continue to show Himself through all of our efforts together at Fort Bluff Camp.
